

Swamp to City:

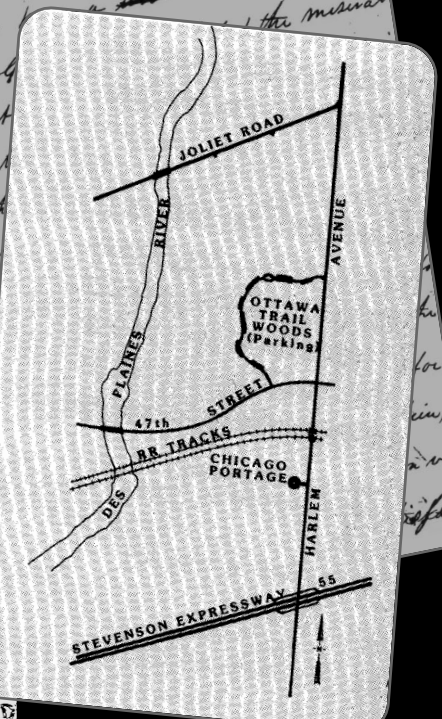

Chicago History from the Portage Site to the Metropolis

Written by the Chicago Metro History Education Center for the Illinois-Michigan Canal National Heritage Corridor Civic Center Authority.

Chicago, May 20th 1828.

your several Letters, by w at anxiety to see me this a fifty shingles that I was for I was fully determined in the to pay you a visit, but when I part of the winter to pay you a visit, but when I no one that was competent to take the charge of -sidually amounts of prospects for Hunt, at
-tee to myself + you was ob. stake, + I th
-tances you have been two days since; an stead with whom to myself for th
-dition of our m
Agency at this not such as u which I of c

Swamp to City: Chicago History from the Portage Site to Metropolis

Researcher and Writers

Maryhelen Matijevic, Lisa Oppenheim, Allen Schwartz, Kristine Sieloff, Howard Wright

Editors

Lisa Oppenheim and Allen Schwartz

Design

Mary Eagan Badinger, Badinger Design, Chicago

Art ("Lay of the Land" illustrations)

Lynda Wallis, Freelance Illustrations

Consultants

Gary Mechanic, Dr. Lawrence McBride, Dr. Dominic Pacyga, Tina Reithmaier

Swamp to City could not have been produced without teachers who participated in giving direction, engaged in research and analyzing documents and historical issues, discovered the portage for themselves, and piloted and critiqued the curriculum. The Chicago Metro History Education Center and the Illinois-Michigan Canal National Heritage Corridor Civic Center Authority sincerely thank them for their sound advice, solid support and enthusiasm for the project.

Teacher Advisory Committee 2001

Maryhelen Matijevic, Kristine Sieloff, Howard Wright, Peggy Hall-Heineman, Judy Holloway, Donna Brown, Rod Sellers

Swamp to City Summer Institute 2002 Participants

Maria Asvos, Lia Baubin, Kelly Naughton, Owen Doak, Eileen Jo Edwards, Mimi Herrington, Matthew McDonald, Adam West, Kirsten Svare, Rich Werling, Grant Phillip, Michale Nuccio, Letticia Naddiq, Victor Munoz, William Lucas, George Milkowski, Louise Mandelman, Mercedes Johnson, Rita Bramble, Scott Bischoff, Rod Sellers, Donna Brown, Peggy Hall-Heineman, Howard Wright, Maryhelen Matijevic, Kristine Sieloff

Teacher Pilot and Edit Advisory Committee 2003

Kelly Naughton, William Lucas, Rod Sellers, Owen Doak, Grant Phillip, Howard Wright, Maryhelen Matijevic, Frances Syzmanski, Jim Cunningham

Swamp to City: Chicago History from the Portage Site to Metropolis

Copyright 2003

Illinois-Michigan Canal National Heritage Corridor Civic Center Authority

Chicago Metro History Education Center

Permission to reproduce this curriculum for classroom use only is freely granted.

Permission to use any primary sources included in this curriculum for classroom use only is granted by the University of Illinois at Chicago, Newberry Library, Chicago Historical Society, Chicago Public Library and publishing companies. Copyright ownership of the sources belongs to these institutions. Those wishing to use the sources outside of the classroom must ask permission of the institution that owns the source.

Permission to reproduce "Lay of the Land" illustrations for other than classroom room use must be obtained from Lynda Wallis, Freelance Illustrations.